You Have A Right To Know!

There are elected officials who say it is more convenient to conduct business in secret "executive sessions" behind closed doors. But we say that in an open society, citizens expect and demand that their elected officials be accountable, both by holding open meetings and by having their records open.

Missouri's "Sunshine Law" was created to assure this open principal in government. It was not created for the media but for the people. It is "The People's Act."

So when some school board member, county commissioner, local law enforcement authority (police or prosecution), judge, city alderman, state representative or whoever says what they do and why they do it are none of your business, say you are the people and you have a right to know!
